1	A STATE OF THE PARTY OF THE PAR
1
1
1
0000
	RMATION REPORT INFORMATION REPORT
	CENTRAL INTELLIGENCE AGENCY
This mate	erial contains information affecting the National Defense of the United States within the meaning of the Espionage Laws, Title Secs. 793 and 794, the transmission or revelation of which in any manner to an unauthorized person is prohibited by law.
. !	S-E-C-R-E-T 50X1-H
	30X1-11
COUNTRY	Poland REPORT
SUBJECT	Unidentified Military Installations DATE DISTR.
1	in Krakow  NO. PAGES  20 JUN 1961
; i
1	REFERENCES RD
DATE OF
PLACE &	January 1
DATE ACQ.	50X1-F  SUNEVALUATED INFORMATION, SOURCE GRADINGS ARE DEFINITIVE, APPRAISAL OF CONTENT IS TENTATIVE. 50X1-F
	The following unidentified military installations were observed in Krakow
,	50X1-HUM  1. On ul. Rajska: a 3-story building resembling a prewar German barracks.
1	The following unidentified military installations were observed in Krakow 50X1-HUM  1. On ul. Rajska: a 3-story building resembling a prewar German barracks, with a barbed-wire fence extending beyond the building. The guard posted in front of the building wore a blue uniform on 8 March 1961, but two days later, he and a second guard, posted between the building and the fence, wore khaki uniforms. No military activity was observed.
1	On ul. Rajska: a 3-story building resembling a prewar German barracks, with a barbed-wire fence extending beyond the building. The guard posted in front of the building wore a blue uniform on 8 March 1961, but two days later, he and a second guard, posted between the building
2	On ul. Rajska: a 3-story building resembling a prewar German barracks, with a barbed-wire fence extending beyond the building. The guard posted in front of the building wore a blue uniform on 8 March 1961, but two days later, he and a second guard, posted between the building and the fence, wore khaki uniforms. No military activity was observed.  2. On ul. Montelupich: a road between barracks. The guard in front of the northern block wore a khaki uniform. No military activity was observed. Other installations on this street included a 1-story house with a small garden in front, guarded by an elderly, unarmed, soldier wearing a blue uniform; a 1-story barracks, apparently used as a depot; concrete walls, with a paratrooper posted as a guard in between them. On
2	On ul. Rajska: a 3-story building resembling a prewar German barracks, with a barbed-wire fence extending beyond the building. The guard posted in front of the building wore a blue uniform on 8 March 1961, but two days later, he and a second guard, posted between the building and the fence, wore khaki uniforms. No military activity was observed.  2. On ul. Montelupich: a road between barracks. The guard in front of the northern block wore a khaki uniform. No military activity was observed. Other installations on this street included a 1-story house with a small garden in front, guarded by an elderly, unarmed, soldier wearing a blue uniform; a 1-story barracks, apparently used as a depot; concrete walls, with a paratrooper posted as a guard in between them. On 10 March 1961 a paratrooper drove a military truck past the guard.  3. On ul. Warszawska: a 4-story building in front of which a guard wearing a khaki uniform and cap with red band was posted on 10 March 1961. No military activity was observed. Other installations in the block included a firing range, a stand, a civilian-occupied building with an inscription which seemed to indicate that a technical school was located there, and another building probably also belonging to a technical school.  3. On ul. Prandoty  3. On ul. Prandoty  4. On ul. Prandoty  5. On ul. Prandoty  6. On ul. Prandoty  7. On ul. Prandoty  8. On lo March 1961, two soldiers in khaki uniforms and winter caps drove in from the north in a military truck with trailer. The truck was loaded with equipment; the trailer, which was half the length of the truck and about two meters high, had smooth metal sides and a tarpaulin cover which bulged on top.  4. On the province of the pro
2	On ul. Rajska: a 3-story building resembling a prewar German barracks, with a barbed-wire fence extending beyond the building. The guard posted in front of the building wore a blue uniform on 8 March 1961, but two days later, he and a second guard, posted between the building and the fence, wore khaki uniforms. No military activity was observed.  Con ul. Montelupich: a road between barracks. The guard in front of the northern block wore a khaki uniform. No military activity was observed. Other installations on this street included a 1-story house with a small garden in front, guarded by an elderly, unarmed, soldier wearing a blue uniform; a 1-story barracks, apparently used as a depot; concrete walls, with a paratrooper posted as a guard in between them. On 10 March 1961 a paratrooper drove a military truck past the guard.  On ul. Warszawska: a 4-story building in front of which a guard wearing a khaki uniform and cap with red band was posted on 10 March 1961. No military activity was observed. Other installations in the block included a firing range, a stand, a civilian-occupied building with an inscription which seemed to indicate that a technical school was located there, and another building probably also belonging to a technical school.  On ul. Prandoty on 10 March 1961, two soldiers in khaki uniforms and winter caps drove in from the north in a military truck with trailer. The truck was loaded with equipment; the trailer, which was half the length of the truck and about two meters high, had smooth metal sides and a tarpaulin cover which bulged on top. 4,5
2	On ul. Rajska: a 3-story building resembling a prewar German barracks, with a barbed-wire fence extending beyond the building. The guard posted in front of the building wore a blue uniform on 8 March 1961, but two days later, he and a second guard, posted between the building and the fence, wore khaki uniforms. No military activity was observed.  2. On ul. Montelupich: a road between barracks. The guard in front of the northern block wore a khaki uniform. No military activity was observed. Other installations on this street included a 1-story house with a small garden in front, guarded by an elderly, unarmed, soldier wearing a blue uniform; a 1-story barracks, apparently used as a depot; concrete walls, with a paratrooper posted as a guard in between them. On 10 March 1961 a paratrooper drove a military truck past the guard.  3. On ul. Warszawska: a 4-story building in front of which a guard wearing a khaki uniform and cap with red band was posted on 10 March 1961. No military activity was observed. Other installations in the block included a firing range, a stand, a civilian-occupied building with an inscription which seemed to indicate that a technical school was located there, and another building probably also belonging to a technical school.  3. On ul. Prandoty    Charlow   Charlo
3	On ul. Rajska: a 3-story building resembling a prewar German barracks, with a barbed-wire fence extending beyond the building. The guard posted in front of the building wore a blue uniform on 8 March 1961, but two days later, he and a second guard, posted between the building and the fence, wore khaki uniforms. No military activity was observed.  On ul. Montelupich: a road between barracks. The guard in front of the northern block wore a khaki uniform. No military activity was observed. Other installations on this street included a 1-story house with a small garden in front, guarded by an elderly, unarmed, soldier wearing a blue uniform; a 1-story barracks, apparently used as a depot; concrete walls, with a paratrooper posted as a guard in between them. On 10 March 1961 a paratrooper drove a military truck past the guard.  On ul. Warszawska: a 4-story building in front of which a guard wearing a khaki uniform and cap with red band was posted on 10 March 1961. No military activity was observed. Other installations in the block included a firing range, a stand, a civilian-occupied building with an inscription which seemed to indicate that a technical school was located there, and another building probably also belonging to a technical school.  On ul. Prandoty khaki uniforms and winter caps drove in from the north in a military truck with trailer. The truck was loaded with equipment; the trailer, which was half the length of the truck and about two meters high, had smooth metal sides and a tarpaulin cover which bulged on top.  50X1-HUM1
3 3 STATE	On ul. Rajska: a 3-story building resembling a prewar German barracks, with a barbed-wire fence extending beyond the building. The guard posted in front of the building wore a blue uniform on 8 March 1961, but two days later, he and a second guard, posted between the building and the fence, wore khaki uniforms. No military activity was observed.  2. On ul. Montelupich: a road between barracks. The guard in front of the northern block wore a khaki uniform. No military activity was observed. Other installations on this street included a 1-story house with a small garden in front, guarded by an elderly, unarmed, soldier wearing a blue uniform; a 1-story barracks, apparently used as a depot; concrete walls, with a paratrooper posted as a guard in between them. On 10 March 1961 a paratrooper drove a military truck past the guard.  3. On ul. Warszawska: a 4-story building in front of which a guard wearing a khaki uniform and cap with red band was posted on 10 March 1961. No military activity was observed. Other installations in the block included a firing range, a stand, a civilian-occupied building with an inscription which seemed to indicate that a technical school was located there, and another building probably also belonging to a technical school.  3. On ul. Prandoty    Charlow   Charlo

	S-E-C-R-E-T	50X1-HUM
	-2-	00/(11/01/1
5.	. In the evenings of the early part of March, the streets were mainly filled with paratroopers	50X1-HUM
Con	of Krakow showing the locations of the installations described above. Rough sketches of the immediate locations of installations are also attached.
1.	a battalion of the
	Sixth Airborne Division at this barracks. The fact that the guard wore a blue uniform one day and a khaki uniform (without beret) another indicates that an air force or air defense (OPL) unit has moved into the barracks; in December 1960 the OPL units changes to blue uniforms.	50X1-HUM
2.	The block is supposedly a depot for the Sixth Airborne Division.
3.	The purpose of these installations is not known. It may be used by the ABC-school in Krakow.
4.	The contents were presumably electrotechnical equipment, such as artillery firing computation equipment.	`
5.	The truck was probably en route to the ül. Rakowiecka
	,

S-E-C R-E-T

50X1-HUM

SECRET

50X1-HUM

SEGRET	50X1-HUM
	•
The state of the s

II ULICA MONTELUPICH SUCCES

SECRET 50X1-HUM

Sanitized Copy Approved for Release 2011/04/28 : CIA-RDP80T00246A059500130001-7 50X1-HUM

Secret

111 ULICA WARSZAWSKA

SEGRET

50X1-HU

(ENCL 3)

Sanitized Copy Approved for Release 2011/04/28: CIA-RDP80T00246A059500130001-7
.50X1-HUM
SECRET

KIRKEGARD

KIRKEGARD

50X1-HUM

SECPET
Secret	1300

Sanitized Copy Approved for Release 2011/04/28 : CIA-RDP80T00246A05950013	0001-7 50 X1-HUM
SECRET
Key to Installations noted on Krakow City Map:
I - ulica Rajska; see also sketch I
II - ulica Montelupich; see also sketch II
III - ulica Warszawska; see also sketch III
IV - ulica Prandoty; see also sketch IV

